1ST GRADE WEEKLY UPDATE

Week Twenty-Seven

We began the third trimester this week! It sure seems like this school year is flying by. I am sure the nicer weather has been helping! We had a good week in first grade. Highlights included reading with our fourth grade buddies, preparing to host Mass, and listening to our wonderful Art Adventure mom who shared more art that we will be seeing at the Minneapolis Institute of Art. Next week, we look forward to hosting Mass on Wednesday, watching some second grade plays, and attending an Irish dance performance.

Have a blessed weekend!

Reminders

Our first grade class will be hosting school Mass on Wednesday, March 13. We hope to have you, and any other family members who would like to attend, with us!

If your child is reading at Mass, please help remind them to be practicing at home. Thank you!

Report cards will be released tomorrow morning. Please review your child's report card, sign the report card sheet that was sent home today, and return the sheet next week.

Notes from the Week

Reading

Students learned about homophones this week (words that are the same but are spelled differently and have different meanings). We read a story about where food comes from and discussed the author's purpose for writing. Students worked on a draft of a narrative writing piece.

Math

This week, we worked on subtraction within 20 and solved some real world addition and subtraction problems. We will continue to work on our math facts as we begin learning about graphs next week.

Religion

Students learned about St. Teresa of Avila and the virtue of temperance. We talked about how temperance is only having a healthy amount of something good. We are preparing to host Mass next week and are also learning about the Last Supper and Stations of the Cross.

Science/Social Studies

In social studies, students learned a little bit about the Constitution and some of the rights we have in the United States, such as the freedom of religion, freedom of the press, and freedom of speech.
